X. AUSTRIA CONNECT NORTH AMERICA 2017

Society-Transforming Technologies

Yes, we have started to use Roman numerals. This is the 10th edition of AUSTRIA CONNECT NORTH AMERICA, the Annual Conference for Executives of Austrian Subsidiaries, and – fitting the occasion – we have chosen the world-famous Stanford University as this year’s venue. The cradle of the Silicon Valley is a fitting place to talk about the future of mankind and the changes that are brought about by the rapid advance of technology.

Michael Friedl
Austrian Trade
Commissioner New York

The title of our one-day conference is "Society-Transforming Technologies." We will explore methods to predict the future, disruptive innovations, the secret of success in tackling innovation in the Silicon Valley, and glimpse into the future of energy storage. In the afternoon, we touch on use-centered innovation.

The conference language is English and the program is subject to changes. The evening receptions as well as the optional Saturday morning program are open to spouses and partners.

Peter Sedlmayer
Austrian Trade
Commissioner
Chicago

Who should attend?

- US and Canada-based executives of Austrian subsidiaries
- Austria-based executives of companies involved in the operation of North American subsidiaries
- Executives of Austrian companies planning to set up a subsidiary in North America
- US and Canadian representatives of Austrian companies
- Austrians working as executives for top US and Canadian companies

Christian Lassnig
Austrian Trade
Commissioner
Toronto

Feel free to forward this invitation to your peers and colleagues within your Austrian network in the USA. We look forward to welcoming you all in Palo Alto!

Rudolf Thaler
Austrian Trade Commissioner in Los Angeles
