Michael Friedl
Austrian Commercial Counsellor

Welcome to our 7th Austrian Wine Tasting in Bangkok!

We are proud to present a curated selection of over 40 top-tier Austrian wine producers, representing many different wine-growing regions of Austria. Austrian wines have earned a strong reputation among sommeliers and wine professionals worldwide, frequently appearing on refined wine lists and excelling in international blind tastings. These are artisanal wines, shaped by distinctive terroirs and crafted by winemakers deeply rooted in their land. Their elegance, precision, and food-friendliness make them particularly well-suited to Thai cuisine – and to Asian gastronomy more broadly – offering exciting pairing possibilities for even the most refined palates.

Special words of thanks go to the Austrian Wine Marketing Board for assisting us to prepare this wonderful event!

Located in the Krems Valley, right in the town of Krems, our winery looks back on a long tradition and cultivates around 16 hectares of vineyards today. High priority is given to the wines' ability to age well. Even after 15 or 20 years, the best wines still present themselves fresh and vibrant. Our wines are geared especially toward connoisseurs. It's like classical music: "The complex aromas reveal themselves to those familiar with world of symphonies." Grapes grown on fertile loess soil play a major role, both in viticulture and in our winery, among these the top Rieden Obere Sandgrube and Frechau. The soil literally comes through in the taste of the wines produced here.

Allram has been one of the leading wineries of the Kamptal for decades, with holdings of Riesling and Grüner Veltliner in the famous vineyards of Heiligenstein, Gaisberg and Renner. This position has been strengthened further by receiving national and international awards. For the family, the main factor of producing exceptional wines is to be found already in the vineyards. Many individual and strong characters define the wines of the Allram family. A product of experience and skill. The attention to detail and quality was passed on to every generation. Today, Lorenz and his sister Magdalena Haas-Allram are pursuing it.

When Anton Bauer takes something on, he does so wholeheartedly. When he took over the winery from his parents in 1992, it had only 3.2 hectares of vines. The quality fanatic now cultivates around 40 hectares of vineyards in and around Feuersbrunn. Anton Bauer's work is defined by the combination of deeply rooted commitment to tradition and openness for new methods. The vintner's thoughts and actions have been visionary from beginning. Next to the classic Wagram grape varieties Grüner Veltliner, Riesling and Roter Veltliner, he also invested increased efforts in red wine production - something that initially met with scepticism. Despite this, his Pinot Noir, Cabernet Sauvignon, and aptly named "Cuvée Legendär" now count among Austria's top red wines. The white wines are in the same league.

Among the Grüner Veltliners are stars like the classic Kamptal Terrassen, Ried Lamm and Ried Käferberg. The great Riesling terroir Ried Steinmassl competes with the elegantly structured Ried Heiligenstein. The "Alte Reben" version of Ried Heiligenstein embodies terroir and concentration. The Bauer winery has a history dating back to 1840. Started by the early Bauers, the vineyard back then was quite small. Throughout the years we've grown our vineyards as every generation brought their ideas that developed the winery into what it is today. A family owned and run quality vineyard focusing on homegrown varieties specific to the Wagram region. Our winery is in the sleepy little village of Ottenthal, less than one hour from the historic city of Vienna. This region is a wine making mecca, with an abundance of fertile, lush soil, nutrient rich rock beds and wild berry shrubs and nut trees lining many a field. We have all the natural ingredients we could ever need to produce high quality wine.

Organic means “life”. We follow a philosophy of quality over quantity. Since 2006, our certified organic wines stand testament to our commitment. In our pursuit of authenticity, we welcome scrutiny from independent institutions like Bio Austria. Our sandy soils and the hot, dry Pannonian summers allow us to create wines with a deep character that are rich in extracts and highly enjoyable. The basis of our philosophy is organic farming. We firmly believe that organically farmed vineyards produce more harmonious wines in the glass. Our approach to winemaking at the Groszer Wein winery sounds simple. As little as possible, as much as necessary and with a lot of gut feeling. On the one hand, this means that we do without some oenological aids. Our wines have to make do with what the vineyard has given them. Secondly, we rely on our senses. We don't pick the grapes when they have reached a certain sugar level, but when they taste good to us. Sounds romantic and simple, but it requires a lot of experience and sensitivity. In the cellar, careful handling of the grapes is the be-all and end-all. Grapes are not pumped. That's why we do a lot of lifting, tipping and, if there's no other way, shoveling.

We are situated in the middle of a deep, wind-protected valley, the Pulkautal valley. The soils of the Mailberg Valley are very chalky and covered with loamy sand and loess. This, combined with our special microclimate, gives the wines their distinctive fresh and spicy aroma and produces a great diversity of varieties. In addition to the classic Grüner Veltliner variety, widely known as Weinviertel DAC and Weinviertel DAC Reserve, the 300 hectares of vineyards present excellent conditions for Chardonnay, Gelber Muskateller, Welschriesling and Sauvignon Blanc. Mailberg is also known as the "red wine island", and we are particularly delighted to have won the Lower Austrian Wine Award five times in a row with our Blauer Zweigelt.

Johannes has focussed precisely upon those grape varieties that have made Gumpoldskirchen famous and held in high regard, far beyond the borders of Austria: the white varieties Zierfandler & Rotgipfler, as well as the reds Sankt Laurent & Pinot Noir. Today Johannes and his two sons Ferdinand and Paul are working with biodynamic principals in order to get the best quality possible out of the prehistoric limestone soil.

Tradition and experience knowledge of parents and grandparents is the basis and strength of every family winery. Nevertheless, the future lies in the hands of the young winemakers. Each generation of winegrowers has to discover its terroir anew and interpret it for itself personally. The research drive of Stefanie and Alwin Jurtschitsch goes far beyond the classic organic guidelines. Thus, intelligent solutions for the future of sustainable farming are sought and researched. Alwin and Stefanie Jurtschitsch produce some of the most exciting white wines in the Kamptal. They are not loud, opulent wines - but understatement is the order of the day. Vibrant and energetic, both the classical Cru wines and their natural wines precisely tell the story of their origin and the winemaker.

The microclimate of the Seewinkel and the partly pure sandy soils create the best conditions for viticulture in our region, they allow us to develop specialties in the predicate wine range. For a good 65 years we have concentrated on this area within the wide range of Burgenland wines. We attach great importance to hand harvesting and selection in the vineyard. All our wines are fermented spontaneously. Thus we give them all the freedom to express themselves. In this way, the wine relentlessly and with all honesty reflects our work in the vineyard, the unique climate and the soil of the Pannonian Plain. For our craft as sweet wine winemakers, we were also awarded the title of "Sweet Winemaker of the Year" at the International Wine Challenge in London in 2018.

Our family's wine-growing estate has a very long tradition going back to 1660 when it was first mentioned. By vinification we mean our destination to produce top quality vintage wines which are typical for the local climate and soil of the Kamptal area. Due to long hours of sunshine and cool nights our wines are fruity and of fairly high alcohol content. Moreover, a subtly diversified tartness, which is caused by different types of soil and forms of viniculture, characterizes our wines. In our vineyards you can even find gravel and preexisting rocks as well as loess, which is typical of this area.

Our style, for which we stand, is characterised by centuries of tradition and love of our homeland as it is accomplished by the experience we have gained in top wineries (Château Latour, Domaine François Legros, Schloss Gobelsburg). The unrivalled quality of our wines is closely linked to our pride and joy, the unique soil of our Eichkogel region. This intersection of different geological and climatic zones, in combination with the shell limestone soil, is a nature reserve. The quality of the soil provides our wines with a distinctive minerality and finesse that sets them apart from other wines. The most important vineyard for our autochthonous grape varieties (Zierfandler, Rotgipfler) is the „Schwaben“ vineyard. In addition to the high lime content, the variety of rock types and the perfect composition of the soil, this vineyard is particularly suitable for complex wines rich in finesse.

In the "Reserve" category, all grape varieties found in Kamptal are individually and vintage-specifically bottle-fermented. For the single-vineyard sparkling wines, the "Große Reserven," the focus is not only on vintage and grape variety but also on the terroir. The Kamptal winery has selected three special vineyard sites for this purpose. The terraces of Heiligenstein produce mineral-rich Rieslings with incredible aging potential. The weathered granite of the Steinhaus vineyard gives rise to complex Grüner Veltliners. A deep, humus-rich soil on the Panzaun high plateau serves the foundation for excellent Weißburgunders. All three single-vineyard sparkling wines belong to the highest quality category. Weingut Steininger is also renowned for producing top-quality white wines. Their passion for viticulture and their commitment to the highest quality are evident in every sip of their exquisite wines. "We firmly believe that a wine's origin is of paramount importance and thus serves as a true ambassador for the unique terroir of Kamptal," says Eva Steininger. The vineyards stretch along the sun-drenched slopes of Kamptal, where the mild climate and diverse soils create ideal conditions for growing Grüner Veltliner, Riesling, and many other Kamptal-specific grape varieties. These varieties thrive here and yield wines with a distinctive character.

Wine of Austria: The perfect sip for every Importer. Wine of Austria caters an exquisite portfolio of Austrian wines, and makes them easily accessible, to importers around the globe. We observed a common issue experienced by importers when visiting multiple wine fairs across the globe. With so many Austrian producers exhibiting their goods, importers frequently found it difficult to choose the ideal choice for their customers.

Our Solution: A One-Stop Shop for Austrian Wines

This discovery inspired the formation of our company, "Wine of Austria". The carefully selected portfolio of producers from Austria's different wine regions and styles, including: crisp whites, bold reds, sparkling, sweets even alcohol free. This extensive assortment ensures that importers can find the best wines to fit their clients' needs and budgets. Avoiding the necessity to visit many producers.

No More Portfolio Limitations

Camilla and Markus had previously worked with individual producers and frequently experienced circumstances in which importers sought specific wines outside of the producer's repertoire. Wine of Austria addresses this issue by providing a greater selection, avoiding the frustration of missed possibilities.

Building a Stronger Presence Together

We enthusiastically approached producers across all of Austria's main wine-growing regions. The concept resonated strongly – producers understood that under the unified banner of Wine of Austria, we could collectively achieve greater sales and project a more prominent presence in the market.

The Kracher Winery located in Illmitz within Austria's Seewinkel region, is internationally renowned for its exceptional noble sweet wines. When Alois Kracher passed away in 2007, the entire wine world mourned. Tributes appeared in the Financial Times, Robert Parker and in Jancis Robinson's column – to name only a few. His legacy as a pioneer and visionary will continue to inspire many generations to come. Since 2007, Gerhard Kracher continues the winery that his grandfather founded and his father made famous around the world. He is also capable of producing astonishing red wine cuvée and vibrant, dry white wine. Both came from the same vineyards in Burgenland.

Sohm & Kracher Winery, Aldo Sohm and Gerhard Kracher have been close friends for over a decade. The idea to produce a wine together – under the name of Sohm & Kracher – began in 2009. As with many great ideas, the wine was created during a wine and dining experience. Both Gerhard and Aldo cherish indigenous grape varieties and they have a soft spot for Grüner Veltliner. The origin of the grapes for the wine is Weinviertel, where old vines are found growing on unique soil formations. The first wine was a single varietal Grüner Veltliner, and it was a huge success. Top ratings appeared virtually immediately in international magazines like Wine & Spirits.

Christoph Hoch is the twelfth generation, since 1640, to make wine in his town of Hollenburg, on the south side of the Danube. Today Hoch has 12 hectares total, all in Hollenburg, and all farmed biodynamically and certified by Demeter. Christoph has mostly Grüner Veltliner planted, along with Riesling, Zweigelt, Weissburgunder, Blauer Portugieser, and Muskat Ottonel. He studies his terroir and after discovering the Hollenburger conglomerate is high in active limestone, giving wines with a high acidity, he had the idea to focus on sparkling wine, which represents 75% of his production. Christoph Hoch has an infectious enthusiasm and that energy comes through in the wines.

The Gruber family has been growing wine in Roschitz for more than 200 years for private consumption, but with grandfather Ewald Gruber Sr., a vision was born from a model winery that would base its pride on meticulous work in the vineyard. Working those wines himself became his mantra, one that carried forward to the current generation of Grubers, with Maria, Ewald, and Christian looking after vines and winery. The most important characteristics of organic agriculture include the prohibitive use of easily soluble mineral fertilizers and herbicides; conscious cultivation of the vineyard, to naturally promote the health and fertility of the soil, and a respect for its natural cycle.

Claus Preisinger has been passionately making wine on the picturesque north shore of Lake Neusiedl in the charming Burgenland town of Gols since the year 2002. In a notable move towards sustainability, he converted the vineyards and winery to biodynamic production in 2006, and today he proudly holds the prestigious Respekt Biodyn certification. Claus vinifies a variety of mostly domestic grape varieties, including Blaufränkisch, Zweigelt, Grüner Veltliner, and St. Laurent, all of which are complemented by selections of Pinot Noir and Pinot Blanc sourced from both the west and east sides of beautiful Lake Neusiedl. In a testament to his commitment to purity, Claus does not use any cultivated yeast, and he practices only very slight or no dosing of sulphur dioxide in his winemaking process. He takes the innovative approach of aging many of his wines in amphora rather than traditional wooden barrels, which he views as a conscious step back, allowing for a reduction to the essential elements - the grape and the soil. Reduction, minimalism, and a free spirit are the guiding themes that encapsulate the philosophy and work of Claus Preisinger.

Martin Muthenthaler's vineyards are geographically located in the Wachau and at the same time far away from its epicentre. Muthenthaler is the genius loci of the Spitzer Graben. He is the proverbial hermit who lives at the end of this small valley. His grapes are not helped by the sun reflected from the Danube. Here the climate is cool even in summer while the vines are rooted in almost pure rock. The slate soil is the key here: it retains heat, allows the roots to penetrate deeply and provides excellent drainage. The impressive slopes of the Bruck are the perfect soil for great Rieslings and Grüner Veltliners. The well-integrated acidity lends tension and clarity to the deep, rich wines. The wines are smoky, calm and unforced. We are far from "textbook wines". Martin approached viticulture out of a need to look after his parents' three hectares. And he did so with a free and open mind.

There is hardly another vineyard that has shaped the perception of the Wachau as a serious high-quality wine-growing region as strongly as that of the Knoll family. Many generations of this family have dedicated their lives to growing wine: the first glass bottles were filled with Knoll wine in the 1950s, and the arguably most famous wine label in Austria – the family's trademark baroque image of Saint Urban – first graced the Knoll wine bottles in 1962. The family cultivates wine on sixteen hectares, and the names of his terraces have become common knowledge among both national and international wine drinkers: the Kellerberg, Loibenberg, Pfaffenberg and especially the Schütt yield the fruit for the famous range of Knoll Riesling and Veltliner, which are all clear, precise, mineral-rich and structured, frequently revealing their full potential after years or even decades.
